

MYKOLAS ROMERIS UNIVERSITY'S (MRU),

expressing support for Ukrainian nation, which is experiencing Russian aggression, has prepared humanitarian, legal, and other type of aid for Ukrainians studying at MRU as well as for partners in Ukraine. MRU is prepared to offer existing university resources and also personal staff and student volunteered-help. The University has already initiated aid to Ukraine from the international academic community.

“On behalf of the University community, I express support for the people of Ukraine, who are fighting for their independent state and the right to live in a free, democratic and peaceful country,” said MRU Rector Prof. Inga Žalėnienė.

“We support you – our long-time academic partners – and the entire Ukrainian academic community. We are prepared to share our bread, accommodations with students, alumni, academic personnel and their families from Ukraine, who are now part of the MRU community and with those, who will join its in the future,” said MRU Rector Prof. Žalėnienė.

Шановні друзі,

I congratulate a very relevant academic event on local self-government issues in Ukraine. I wish interesting discussions.

After Ukraine's victory, the problems of local self-government in your country will be solved based on the experience of friendly countries. The double diploma program "Public Administration" of our two universities will also contribute to those decisions.

Україна переможе!

Congratulations again,
Prof. dr. ANDRIUS STASIUKYNAS
(Director of the Public Administration Institute of Mykolas Romeris University)
